RELIEF COLUMN.

Has Been Ordered To Hurry Up Its March.

Japs Bore the Brunt Of The First Fight at Pletsang Sunday.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Minister Conger has again appealed for speedy relief. The legations were safe up to Aug. 3. So far they have had 60 killed and 110 wounded.

The United States has acted upon the appeal. An emphatic message has been sent to China through Minister Wu and through Consul General Goodnow, saying in effect that our full demands relative to the relief of the Ministers by the column now advancing must be complied with. It is practically an ultimatum. The developments have caused grave apprehension for the safety of the Ministers. A message has been sent to Minister Conger telling him to be of good cheer and that the relief column is marching to Pekin. Maj. Gen. Chaffee reports the capture of Pletsang. It was accomplished by the Japanese column with heavy loss. They were supported by the British and Americans. The latter suffered no loss. Chaffee's plan for Monday was to cross to the left bank of the Pei-Ho and take Yang Tsun. Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee has been ordered to China, and it is said the Emperor of Germany has arranged for him to be Commander-in-Chief of the allies. The British have obtained permission to occupy the foreign settlements at Shanghai and Indian regiments have been ordered there from Hong Kong. The Chinese "Black Flags" are leaving Hong Kong, presumably for Pekin.

DEATH NEAR LONGVIEW.

Mrs. Northern Passed Away, Aged 65 years.

Mrs. Northern, mother of Mrs. J. H. Pierce, of Longview, died at the home of her son-in-law, a few days ago, aged about 65 years.

She had not been in good health for some months and death was due to the infirmities incident to old age.

She was a native of Georgia, but had been making her home with her daughter for five years.

Two years ago she professed sanctification.

The remains were entered in Hopewell.

SCHOOL MONEY.

Report Made Showing Amount Spent In The County.

Miss McDaniel, County Superintendent, has made a full settlement with the State Superintendent, having disbursed $32,882.25 of school money for the last school year. Of this $2,894.28 went to the white schools of Hopkinsville, $2,775.04 to the colored schools and the rest to the county school districts, white and colored.

BURGULARS AT EMPIRE.

Company's Store Robbed of Cutlery and Pipes.

Crofton, Aug. 9.—The Empire Coal Company's store was entered by burglars Tuesday night. The thieves secured a dozen razors, some pocket knives and a lot of pipes. They effected an entrance by prying open a window. No clue.

NITRAM.

Will Probated.

The will of the late Mrs. Mary Lou Poindexter has been probated. She bequeathed all of her property to her sister, Mrs. Virginia Ritchie Burnett.

EXPANSION VICTIM.

John McDaniel Dies of Dysentery in Manila.

Other Kentuckians Sacrificed to The Republican Policy of Imperialism.

In the long list of deaths reported from Manila yesterday appeared the following Kentuckians:

"Private Charles Hestlow, Company I, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, died at Manila of dysentery. He enlisted at Bowling Green, and his nearest relative is John Hestlow, of that town.

Private William T. Hedges, Company M, Thirty-seventh volunteer infantry, died at Manila of dysentery. He enlisted at Cythiana, and his nearest relative is Mrs. O. B. Scott, of that town.

Corporal John A. Henderly, Company M, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, died at Manila of dysentery. He enlisted at Fort Thomas.

Private John C. McDaniel, Company K, Thirty-first volunteer infantry, died at Manila of dysentery. He enlisted at Hopkinsville, Ky., and his nearest relative is Robert T. McDaniel, of that place."

John McDaniel was the youngest son of Capt. R. T. McDaniel and was 23 years of age and unmarried.

He was born in this city, July 7, 1878, and enlisted in the army Aug. 10, 1899, arrived in Manila in October 1899 and died there July 18, 1900. This briefly tells the story that covers the career of a promising young man, one of more than 4,000 who have died in the Philippines.

His father, two brothers and three sisters learned yesterday for the first time of his fate, though he had been dead for three weeks. In their sorrow they have the sympathies of the whole city.

DAMAGE BY FIRE.

Residence on North Clay Partially Destroyed Yesterday Morning.

The residence of Mr. Richard Jones, on North Clay street, was partially destroyed by fire about three o'clock yesterday morning. The flames originated in the cook room and soon spread to the main building.

A very few minutes after the alarm was turned in the fire department was on hand and did some good work. The roof of the building was destroyed. Nearly all of the furniture was saved, but in a damaged condition. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

PATIENT FROM WEBSTER.

Dies in the Asylum After Brief Illness.

Miss Lizzie Prather died in the asylum Tuesday of acute dysentery, after a brief illness.

She was sent here from Webster county for treatment eight years ago.

The remains were shipped to Slaughter'sville Wednesday for interment.

BIG TENT MEETING.

One Thousand People Attended Services Last Sunday.

The tent meeting at Big Rock, is drawing immense crowds each day and much good is being accomplished. About one thousand people attended the morning service last Sunday. A hundred or more persons from Lafayette and surrounding country are preparing to go next Sunday. The series of meetings may continue throughout next week.

It is noticeable that a river will show a great deal of sand even when it is down in the mouth.

Sold throughout the world. PUTTER DUGG AND COMPANY

A year ago, when Zola's famous letter 'J'accuse' appeared, I myself heard a young and beautiful Italian lady, throbbing with enthusiasm and admiration for his fearless conduct, explain in a large assembly "If he were here I would kiss him!" and I have no doubt that the other ladies present would have followed

Use only CUTICURA SOAP for baby's skin, scalp, and hair. It is not only the purest, sweetest, & most refreshing of nursery soaps, but it contains delicate, anti-irritant properties, obtained from Cuticura, the great skin cure, which preserve purity and beauty of the skin, scalp, and hair, and prevent dandruff, itching, eruptions from lice-biting, and all other skin troubles from becoming serious. For dandruffing heat rashes, chafing, inflammation, and eruptions, for cradle, itching irritations of the scalp, with dry skin, and falling hair, for red, rough heads, and shingles scalp, and simple infantile humors, it is absolutely indispensable.

respect, of friendship and gratitude; that it is a token of peace and charity—that it has somewhat the

Thus, in Homer, the kiss is a symbol of respect and veneration, and we may add of fellowship. St. Paul exhorted his followers to kiss in token of fellowship: 'Greet one another with an holy kiss.' Down to Homeric times the kiss bore a solely maternal significance. Thus, in Homer, 'kuvkos' meant only the kiss of father to child, or the kiss of the supplicant, like the Proci who kiss the hands of Ilvsses.

The kina never occurs in the love scenes between Venus and Mars, Ulysses and Circe or Paris and Phrynes and Circe of Paris and Helen (Iliad, iii.), nor yet between Hera and Laos, who are distinctly depicted as in the bonds of love (Iliad, xiv.). In the scene with Andromache, Hector consoles her not with a kiss, but with a caress of his hand. Even in the ancient Egyptian the definitions of "kias" (excepting "hach," which is an obsecure point) refer to "embrace" and not to kissing with the lips.

In ancient Sanskrit poetry, again, the kiss is always maternal, and the "kusani" (Sanskrit for "kiss")

The wife of Califa, in the "Ramayana," bewailing his death, recalls his hand, not the lips, that caressed her. So also the wife of the king of Cambodia, while the father, Bali, kissed his son. And again, "And the mother licked her son's face with her tongue, and made lamentation like a yearning cow bereft of her calf."

her calf, the father fondling him the while." (Gorresio, vol. 1, page 393.) It would seem, then, that the kiss, which among ancient and uncivilized people is unknown as a symbol and harbinger of love, spring from "the entirely maternal act, of feeling commonly practiced by the birds, and very frequently, too, by savages. We are told that the Fuegians do not use any kind of cup, but assuage their thirst by sucking up water from the spring through a reed. A child would die of thirst if the mother did not at first in a mother and her own mouth, with water, by giving her own mouth to water, and by introducing it into the mouth of her own mouth with water, and then introducing it into the mouth of her babe. From this act the first kiss was probably evolved—A kiss not amorous, therefore, but maternal. Children kiss only when they have been kissed down, and afterwards they have attained the age of six months.

As a mark of reverence it is yet more common. "The Persians," write Xenophon, "kissed all whom they held in veneration. The Syrians and Phoenicians directed their kisses toward the statues of the gods, toward the sun and moon." Job, too, reaches out toward the sun and kisses his hand. Among

A FORMER REPUBLICAN

Makes a Rattling Speech at the Lexington Convention.

W. E. Bourland, of Dixon, Webster county, a Republican who abandoned it for the Democratic party, made a stirring speech at the Lexington convention. He stood on a chair, and as he did so those about him stood on their chairs and cheered. All over the house the delegates began to climb on their chairs and crane their necks to catch sight of the man who had the courage of his convictions.

In less than a minute every man in the building was up and yelling with his hands up and hat off waving whatever he could find. No heartier welcome could have been given a recruit. Mr. Bourland said he had not been born a Democrat; he had not inherited his Dem

Democrat in all the assemblage than he was. He said he could not stand with both feet on every plank in the Kansas City platform. He could not indorse a single plank in the platform which had been built in Philadelphia by Mark Hanna and his gang. "It is not strange that I have left the Republican party," he shouted, and the delegates yelled: "Bully for you! We needed you're gone!"

"The only strange thing in this is that the whole Republican party has not become decimated and run pell-mell into the Democratic party falling on their knees and beseeching Almighty God to forgive their sins."

"I have been a Republican, and am acquainted with Republican language when they speak of civil liberty." They mean by that that they want six cities of refuge to the slayer of men; that instead of putting three on one side of the river and three on the other, as Moses instructed the children of Israel to do, they are putting them all on the north side of the river. They want liberty to murder, and then they want cities of refuge, as Mounts to protect them against

THE EXTINCT COPPER TOE.

New England Boys Were Laid on Shoes

Leaves.

Children kick out the toes of their boots in just as much as they ever did, but the copper toe has gone out of date too long ago to talk about. It was fine, though, in its day. How the copper old wink and gitter in the firelight! Away up in the Maine woods a farmer that could not bear the thought of giving the shoe maker all he earned took an old copper washbowl and cut it up into strips, which he fastened on the toes of the boots of Elbridge and Elmer Ellsworth and Eddie. "There, now!" and he: "Less are you get through them in a hurry. Laws! I never see boys so hard on shoe leather." It was a bright idea, and the more he thought about it the more it was borne in on him that it was a bright idea. He got a patent on it. Elbridge and Elmer Ellsworth and Eddie were kind of ashamed to be seen in their copper toes at first, but when the other boys all crowded around at the district school and said: "Gosh! Woosh! my pa would fix my boots that way," they felt more comfortable and rather happy. From that time on till, for the sake of peace and quietness in the house, if for no other reason, fathers had to buy copper-toed boots for their boys. The Maine farmer got rich and had pie three times a day, and moved to town, and had a barefooted sofa in the front room, and a marble-topped center table, with wax flowers in a glass case on it, and everything that heart could wish. Too foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child, and it is part of its nature to be hard on shoes. You may beat the laws of the universe for a little while, when they are not looking, but not for long. The day came when the child woke up and realized that it was being robbed of its rights guaranteed under the constitution. Something like this, eh? "We, the children of the United States in convention assembled, do hold these truths to be self-evident." Not at all, not at all. They said: "Heel! Copper-toes! Copper-toes!" And the comic came down. Harvey Sutherland, in Ainslie's.

MIRROR-WRITING.

A Most Curious Manifestation of a Nervous Disease.

An almost unique case of nervous disease was investigated at the last sitting of the French Academy of Medicine. The patient is a young Roumanian, whose malady has been observed by Dr. Marinisco, of Bucharest. The most curious manifestation of his disease takes the shape of what is known among scientists as "mirror-writing," which means that the characters are written backward, so that when reflected in a mirror they are to be read in the ordinary way. Dr. Marinisco had observed that the hands of his patient, when unoccupied, were affected with a nervous trembling which ceased to a great extent when they were used for a definite purpose. Wishing to see what effect this symptom of the malady had on the handwriting, Dr. Marinisco asked the patient to write a few lines from dictation; to his astonishment he found that the entire passage had been written backward with absolute accuracy. The experiment was repeated several times with exactly the same result, and it is, in fact, impossible for the patient to write otherwise. When asked to trace a word with his foot on the ground, it was found to be written backward. The patient being a Jew, a final experiment was made with Hebrew. This language, as is well known, is always written backward, but the patient, reversing, as usual, the normal process, can only write it from left to right. Partial cases of mirror writing have been observed before, but none in which the tendency was so irresistible.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Post Runner's Journey.

David Ramsey, a rural post-runner connected with the Kiriemuir post office and Alyth, has been a daily post-runner for the last 37 years. For 25 years he covered a distance daily of 24 miles, and 12 miles a day for other 12 years, which makes a grand total of 232,000 miles. During the 37 years he never was known to be off a single day with sickness, and never received holidays. He is now bordering on fourscore years, and has just resumed his appointment on account of failing health. His youngest daughter has been appointed in his place. His journeys amount to nine times around the world, to Cape of Good Hope and back 20 times, to New York and back 38 times, from Great Britain to Japan and back 12 times, and only 8,000 miles short of a journey to the moon.

An Automobile Horse

Objection having been made to the automobile on the ground that it has nothing in front of it to "steady" it, an ingenious man has invented and patented an automobile horse. This horse is not to be placed in front of an automobile carriage, but to be "hitched up" to any carriage. He has the work of locomotion "in his mind," and will draw the carriage after him just as the ordinary unpated horse would. The motor mechanism in the horse consists of two electric motors, supported upon cross bars, and driving, through chains and belts, the shafts of the driving wheels mounted on the horse's hind legs. The steering is effected by reins held by the driver, the neck of the horse for this purpose being intersected and mounted upon ball bearings.

COATED

Look at your tongue. Is it coated? Then you have a bad taste in your mouth every morning. Your appetite is poor, and food distresses you. You have frequent headaches and are often dizzy. Your stomach is weak and your bowels are constipated. There's a reliable cure:

Ayer's Pills

Don't take a cathartic dose and then stop. Better take a laxative dose each night, just enough to cause one good free movement the day following. You will feel better the next day. Your appetite returns, your dyspepsia is cured, your headaches pass away, your tongue clears up, your liver acts well. See all druggists.

"I have taken Ayer's Pills for 20 years, and I consider them the best medicine. One pill does me more good than half a box of any other kind I have ever tried."

MODERN AND MORAL.

Buckskin Bill's Most Wonderful of All Exhibitions Coming.

Over 1,000 Men and Horses in This Vast Army From The West.

The modern exhibition must combine education with amusement, suit the old and young, and present something that will make a lasting and a favorable impression on the public. Owing to the rapid disappearance of the Indian and the astonishing advance of the westward civilization, the history of our country is yet an unwritten book to thousands of people.

The entertainment proper, however, faithfully reproduces life on the frontier, showing Indian sports and warfare, the skill of the cowboy with rifle, lasso and pony, the discipline and training of the western rider, the clever work of the bolero throwers of the South American plains, the Arabs in their wonderful riding and shooting, the Mexicans as marksmen and horse men, the Cossacks of the Russian steppes, and the innumerable other features of this unsurpassed entertainment.

The military tournament is something never equaled either in magnitude, picturesqueness, or enthusiastic popularity. Engaged in it are U. S. Cavalry, English, German, French and Mexican soldiers, Indians, Cowboys, and many other interesting people, who will be strangers to many thousands who see them here Friday August 17.

He will have with him 3 bands of music; the most famous of which is the cowboys' band. The military band and the female band from Wyoming together make the greatest musical aggregation in existence.

QUININE IS ADVANCING.

Took a Sudden Jump of Two Cents Monday.

The resident of the malaria district has begun to hear sad news; his staff of life is leaping steadily in price. Quinine has been advancing for a week or more. Monday it jumped two cents on the ounce. It is now quoted at forty-nine cents in one-ounce cans, forty-four cents in five-ounce cans, and thirty-eight cents in ten-ounce cans. Druggists do not thoroughly understand what has caused the sudden advance in price. Some, who claim to be posted on the matter, say that it is caused by extra shipments to the East of the finished product and the decrease of the shipments of bark from the Southern isles to this country.

WOMEN AS WITNESSES.

Are Said to State Their Conclusions as Facts.

Much accident has been caused among lawyers by an incident which occurred in the trial of a case in the circuit court recently, in view of the theory of law that a woman's testimony is to be received with great caution.

According to the legal theory women are presumed to give criminal testimony. This is not because they are not honest or that they are untruthful. The legal presumption is that women's prejudices are so strong that they form conclusions according to their way of reasoning and convince themselves that they are right. They will then, it is presumed, state as facts what are only their convictions, based upon conclusions.

In the case referred to a woman was being sued for divorce. She contested the suit and retained a lawyer to protect her interests. While on the witness stand she stated that her husband had hired persons to swear against her.

"That is a serious charge," said her husband's lawyer, who was questioning her, "and one for which your husband could be sent to the penitentiary if it were true. How do you know that your husband hired persons to come here and swear against you?"

"Why," replied the witness, "I know that he gave a negro girl 50 cents to swear against me. If he did it in one case he would do so in other cases."

"That is all you know about your husband hiring persons to come here and swear against you?" asked the attorney.

The witness, after arguing with the attorney for some time in defense of her position, admitted that this was all she knew of the matter. The attorney then said to her:

"Did you not hear the negro girl of whom you spoke testify that she 50 cents which your husband gave her was money that he owed her?"

"He did not owe her any money," said the witness. "If he owed her any money, I did not know of it."

This case comes clearly within the theory. No one doubted that the woman meant to be truthful, and that this was her intention was proven by the fact that she did not attempt to bolster up her theory by statements of alleged facts other than in regard to the negro girl and her line of reasoning from the incident, guided by her own conclusions. That she felt certain that she was right there was no doubt.

Miss Daisy Barbee, the woman attorney, was asked if her experience had borne out the theory referred to and said:

"I can't say anything about women. I have too many women clients. I will say this, added she, laughing: 'Women make good witnesses.'"

Attorney Hugo Grimm said: "My experience has been that it is hard for a man as well as a woman to give straight testimony, and I always sympathize with a witness. I have given testimony which, as I reflected on the matter afterwards, I saw was not correct. It comes on you so suddenly that you have not time to think. I have made statements on the witness stand that were my convictions and not the facts."—St. Louis Republic.

A BLIND PORTER.

Does His Work as Well as If He Could See.

There is a blind negro employed at the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley station at Shelby, Miss., who is certainly a wonder.

The darky's name is Marshall Bright. He is totally blind of the power of sight. Notwithstanding this physical handicap, Marshall attends to all the duties of a porter around the station. He handles freight, puts out switch lights, and seals freight cars as correctly as any person could do who is blessed with good sight.

In fixing the switch lights in the evening he adjusts the flame of the lamp by passing his finger over the blaze. His sense of touch is so acute that he can tell just when the lampwick is properly adjusted.

Bright has been employed around the station for a number of years, and although he is constantly around the railroad track he has never had but one mishap. Several years ago, before he became thoroughly familiar with the train, he was brushed off the track by a slowly moving train. He was not hurt, though, by the accident.

CONSOLLING.

When a man fails he usually attributes his lack of success to the belief that his business wasn't consoling.—Chicago Daily News.

MRS. ANNIE BRUNTON.

Of Near Brandenburg, Ky., Brutally Murdered by Her Nephew, Je f Durham.

Mrs. Annie Brunton, a widow thirty-five years of age and the mother of four children, living at a little town of Walden, three miles from Brandenburg, on the Texas road, was brutally murdered by a nephew named Jeff Durham, aged twenty-seven years and regarded as weak minded. Mrs. Brunton attended a wedding Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at Cedar Grove church, accompanied by her nephew and it was on their return the horrible deed was committed. Durham was arrested, confessed and would have been mobbed but was hurried away by the sheriff to Louisville.

STORY OF GENERAL GRANT.

And How He Bought Off a Very Troublesome Fellow.

When Gen. Grant was president he was fond of fire horses, as everybody knows, and drove the fastest trotter in Washington. It was his greatest pleasure to go out on the aqueduct road, which is a dead level from Georgetown to Cabin John Bridge, and let his horse out to its full speed. People who knew his habits used to go out there every afternoon for the novelty of seeing the president of the United States driving at a 2:30 gait. But a butcher in Washington had a horse that could beat the president's, and very often he appeared on the road to show his animal's speed and annoy the president. He would hang around at the end of the aqueduct bridge until the president's light buggy and stylish steppage had passed, and would follow them until he reached a wide place in the road. Then he would let his horse out, and the butcher cart would go bounding along until he had thrown dust in the president's eyes for awhile, when he would slacken up and let Gen. Grant go by, only to pass him again and again as often as he pleased, without the slightest regard for the pride or the office of the chief magistrate of this great nation.

Gen. Grant was a very patient, self-contained man, but I doubt if anything that ever occurred in his life annoyed him so much as that butcher. He was compelled to abandon the road which runs along the top of the tunnel that brings the water from the upper Potomac to Washington and seek other drives in order to avoid his tormentor, but the villain still pursued him, and used to hang around Lafayette square in his old butler's cart so that he could follow the president in any direction he might take. Finally Gen. Grant took Col. Condit Smith into his confidence and asked him to negotiate quietly for the purchase of the horse, which was accomplished for $500.

The next morning Senator Conkling and Senator Jones, of Nevada, were invited to inspect the wonderful animal, and accompanied Gen. Grant to the white house stables just south of the state department. Senator Jones declined to express an opinion as to the merits of the animal. He said that he claimed to know all about mines, but had never set up as an expert on horses; but Mr. Conkling, who probably knew less, pretended to examine the animal with great care. He looked at his feet and twisted his tail; he inspected his hoofs minutely, gazed steadily for several moments into his eyes, rubbed his legs with a knowing air, and finally turning to Gen. Grant, remarked, with an air of judicial authority:

"It's a mighty fine horse, Mr. President, but I would rather have the $500."

"That's exactly what the butcher said," retorted Gen. Grant.—W. E. Curtis, in Chicago Record.

CHINN SHORT.

Fayette County Clerk in For $11,000.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 7.—The report of State Inspector Hines to Auditor Coulter, of his investigation of the books and records of County Clerk Claude Chinn, of Lexington, Fayette County, shows Chinn to be short in his accounts $10,920.

Gov. Beckham will receive the report to-morrow and steps will be taken immediately looking to the recovery of the money from the Fidelity & Deposit Company, of Maryland, which furnished the bond. The Court of Appeals will be asked to remove Chinn from office.

Clerk Chinn states that he can account for every cent that as a Brown Democrat, he refused to recognize Coulter as Auditor of State and hence has made no reports to the Auditor of State since February, and when such reports are made his books will be found correct.

Sensational Feats.

Things sensational catch the public eye; and that's the reason the Lexington Horse Show, Fair and Carnival has engaged the Spiral Tower Act; Ray Trotter, the Slack Wire King; The Trolley Car Trio, Burgess, Rick and Burgess, the funniest farce extant; The Dillworth Family, 5 Premier Acrobatic Artists, and The Wagon Family, six renowned Aerial Artists to entertain their patrons free. Positively this is the most liberal treatment ever accorded patrons of a fair and carnival, and besides you listen to the Hungarian Boys Band (35 members from 6 to 16 years old) that will cost 75 cents in any theatre. An Open Letter.

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is to visit his fatherless, and the widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world." James 1:27. Such is the instruction of the book to which we turn with the hope that we may yet acceptably shape our tangled lives.

It sometimes falls to the lot of mortals through no fault of their own, that they fall a victim to thirty annoyances and persecutions that "wear the soul," as did the master in his earthly sojourn. Such has indeed been the unhappy fate of a lonely stranger in our midst, who with a high aim, and kind word and thought for all, has nevertheless fallen a victim to evil report.

"And they fought against me without a cause."—Prov. 109, 13.

There are those who are as small as the grave, who owe their lives to the good offices of my dear husband.

Were it not that I have no other means of livelihood, and that this maliciousness is sapping the very vitals out of my living, I would still go on utterly ignoring, as I have faithfully endeavored to do for six long, dreary years. But I stand face to face with actual need, and good people are constantly influenced to seek homes elsewhere, because they are persistently told "They cannot get along with me." "They cannot get along with me," that "no one can please me," that I am "a terror" that no one can be found to live with me, &c. &c.

When in point of fact, one family has lived in rooms adjoining mine going on two years. And still another family will have been with me a year in the fall.

It is beneath my character and dignity to quarrel with anyone, I never did, I never do, I never will. In view of these facts, they perjure the soul by keeping these lies in circulation. "For all liars shall have their post in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone."—Rev. 21:8, and again "Ye shall not bear false witness against thy neighbors."—Ex. 20:16.

Victor Hugo has said "A man's life is influenced as much by what he may be said of him as by what he may do."

Friends I seek not sympathy. I demand the rights of a citizen.—J. F. STICE. "For justice all places are a temple and all seasons summer."

"Slandered and maligned, I stand apart from those whose boundless power hath wrong, not crushed my heart. Then, then when towards him my name, and scoffed to see me feebly stem the tide. When some were kind on whom I had no claim. And some forsook on whom my love relied."

MARKET STEADY

With a Considerable Sprinkling of Rejections.

The condition of the local tobacco market showed no material change from last week. The offering consisted principally of common leaf and lugs and amounted to about two hundred hogheads. Rejections were more numerous for several weeks. There was no new leaf sold this week. Receipts are now very light, as about all of the old crop has been delivered. Last week's quotations fairly represent our market for the week this week.

DIAMOND DIGEST TABLETS

Do Destroy Dyspepsia and restore the bowels and liver to perfectly natural action promptly, or money refunded by any Druggist.

Condemned—I have been taking your DIAMOND DIGEST TABLETS for two months past and am practically a well man for the first time in 10 years. Everything I ate distressed me, more or less, and I was all run down from lack of proper nourishment. I am eating everything that comes my way now, without the slightest inconvenience. Two tablets after a heavy meal and one after a light meal seem to thoroughly digest everything, and I am daily gaining flesh. My daughter commenced taking them about two weeks ago for constipation, and while they do not act as quickly as some powerful cathartics, they are milder and much more satisfactory, because they do not prior to the action in the bowels, and the relief seems to be of a permanent nature. All other medicines have left her in worse condition after taking than before.

Dear Sirs—I have taken one box of your Diamond Digest Tablets and they have been the only remedy I have ever found that stops the HEARTBURN. I enclose for another box. Mrs. Henry Coward.

Labels with both party designs have been gotten up and some are beautiful. The idea was to test the feeling by the sale of brooms. An Ohio firm was surprised to find that as many Bryan brooms were demanded in that state as those with the McKinley design. The Evansville broom factory, one of the largest in the United States, finds the sale of Bryan and McKinley brooms to be about equal. A carload of brooms shipped by the Evansville factory to Colorado all bore the Bryan label.—Owensboro Messenger.

RIPE IN YEARS.

James Bradshaw Dead, Aged 84 Years.

A Good Man Has Fallen Whose Good Deeds Will Live After Him.

Mr. James Bradshaw, one of the oldest and wealthiest men in Christian county, died at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, at his home in the suburbs of Hopkinsville. He had for several years been very feeble and almost blind and made his home with his niece, Mrs. John A. Gunn.

Mr. Bradshaw was in his 84th year and was a native of Christian county. All of his long and honorable life was spent in this county. Until incapacitated for business by old age, he followed farming and accumulated one of the finest landed estates in the county, comprising nearly 1100 acres. The evening of his life has been passed in this city, in the home of Dr. Gunn. He was never married and the children of his brothers and sisters are his nearest relatives. Among these are Mrs. Gunn and her three brothers, the Messrs. Kelly, and Mrs. W. P. Winfree, of this city. The probating of his will, disposing of his large estate, will be awaited with interest.

Mr. Bradshaw was a member of the First Presbyterian church and his funeral services were held yesterday morning at Dr. Gunn's residence, Rev. F. L. Goff officiating. The burial followed at Hopevell cemetery.

Prof. W. H. Harrison has returned from Virginia. While in Richmond he was taken ill and spent about a month in the Old Dominion hospital. His health is now much improved.

Mrs. Eliza J. Baynham, of Montgomery county, Tenn., spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. C. H. Bush, and left Tuesday night for Coolridge, Kansas, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Herring.

FINE FARM FOR SALE.

Well Adapted to Agriculture or Stock Raising.

Being desirous of changing my business, I offer for sale my farm 4 miles East of Crofton, containing 5.0 acres, known as the

is in the highest state of cultivation and has all necessary improvements. There are 3 tobacco barns, stables for 25 head of stock, corn shed, tool shed, 2 granaries, corn crib, 2 tenant houses, good ice house, etc. 200 acres in cultivation and 100 in timber. The farm is within 5 miles of a coal field, elementary schools and churches. Fully situated for stock raising. Stock dies are never troublesome in this neighborhood. Will sell at a bargain, I cash and balance to suit the purchaser. There are 75 acres for wheat this fall.

M. V. DULIN, Crofton, Ky.

The New Hill Building.

The stone work of G. A. Hill's front to the Baptist church property, corner 11th and Main, is now done and the foundation is ready for brick. The front to be erected will entirely change the appearance of the building and make it look like a modern business building with a frontage of 60 feet, three stories wide and two stories high. Mr. Hill will convert the upper story into a modern flat and live in it with his family.
